Plot to Overthrow Obregon Discovered

FEDERAL RAIDS ON BORDER CITIES DISCLOSE PLAN

Mass of Documentary Evidence, Indicating Proposed New Revolution, Seized—Arrests Are Expected.

FORMER CARRANCISTA IS BELIEVED LEADER

Obregon Takes Oath of Office and Assures Americans Attending He Will Protect U. S. Interests in Mexico.

San Antonio, Texas, December 1.—Federal officers, conducted simultaneous raids at various border points, including El Paso, Eagle Pass, Laredo, Brownsville and this city, netted a mass of documentary evidence of the formation on this side of the border of a new revolutionary movement, against the Obregon government in Mexico, according to a statement made here tonight by W. A. Wiseman, special agent for the department of justice.

According to Mr. Wiseman, the raids were ordered by District Superintendent C. E. Brennan, who is headquartered here, and the evidence secured is being collected in the office of the local federal bureau of investigation. Department of justice agents here are known to be busy translating documents seized during the raids, and a number of important arrests are expected to follow.

Among the documents obtained are several manifestos announcing the aims and purposes of the new "reformist" movement, the leaders of which are expected to be caught in the federal dragnet now being drawn in, Mr. Wiseman said.

Lucio Blanco, former Carrancista general, is the head of the new revolutionary movement, according to the accepted belief in local Mexican circles.

OBREGON TAKES OATH OF OFFICE.—(By The Associated Press.)—General Alvaro Obregon was inaugurated president of Mexico at midnight last night. The simple ceremony of taking the oath of office marked the fourth time in the republic's history of 99 years that the executive power has been transferred peacefully.

Provisional President de la Huerta, who as General Obregon's right arm was sworn in last night, in the chamber of deputies, was the first to embrace the new president, and as the succession of retiring and newly appointed cabinet members, members of congress and other officials greeted President Obregon, moving picture machines clicked and energetic photographers kept up a fusillade of flashlights. The diplomatic gallery was filled.

It is understood Mr. Sumnerlin is under guard.

State Executives Ask Aid From Government For Farmers of U. S.

Governors Unanimously Agree That Congressional Action Permitting the Proper Marketing of Products Is of Prime Importance.

MUCH CONSTRUCTIVE WORK BEING PLANNED

Immediate Improvement in Housing Conditions Throughout the Country Will Have Attention of Conference.

Harrisburg, Pa., December 1.—Governors and governors-elect representing more than half the states of the union voted at their annual conference here today to begin an inquiry into what was variously called the "farmers' problem" and "agricultural situation facing farmers of the country, with a view to recommending federal legislation to assist them.

As a first step toward carrying out their plan, which was suggested by Governor Harding, of Iowa, the conference appointed a committee consisting of Governor Harding, Bickett, of North Carolina; Holcomb, of Connecticut; Parker, of Louisiana, and Goodrich, of Indiana, to make a preliminary survey and report back before the conclusion of the conference. After that, it is contemplated to send the committee to Washington to urge legislation before congress which convenes this month.

Governor Harding of Iowa, injected the subject with a plea for some program for enabling the farmer more to place his products on the export market. He warned that the situation from the farmers' viewpoint was becoming distinctly alarming.

Governor Bickett of North Carolina, went further. The situation on the farms today, he said is tragic. "Drastic measures must be taken to meet a drastic situation. It would be a dangerous thing to let farmers begin to think 'what's the use.' Today the farmers are not only facing poverty. They are facing bankruptcy. Don't let bolshevism get abroad on the farms."

The congress looks like another political convention. It is marked by presidential, vice presidential, senatorial and congressional timber in quantity and quality, some of it prospective, but some of it already established as such by the recent vote of the electorate.

The conference also sounds like a political convention. The whole city, including the senate chamber of the capitol, the banquet room of the leading hotels and the dining room of Governor Sproul's mansion. In fact, every place the governors have assembled at a given time on a given occasion, has reverberated with oratory hearkening back to the convention days last June.

HEARING OF POOLE AND BOYKIN CLASH OPENED TO PUBLIC

All Atlantans Are Asked to Appear at Inquiry if They Have Evidence of Value to Offer.

INVITATION EXTENDED TO SOLICITOR GENERAL

Chairman Maddox Says That Every Bit of Evidence Available Is Wanted at the Meeting on Wednesday.

The recent clash between A. Lamar Poole, chief of the Atlanta detective department, and Solicitor General John A. Boykin, arising from Solicitor Boykin's recent personal raid which revealed the existence of an alleged fake wire-tapping and crooked gambling "syndicate" in Atlanta, and which resulted in the conviction Wednesday of Abe Owens, one of the alleged ring-leaders, will be given an airing next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock by the Atlanta board of police commissioners. It was decided Wednesday afternoon at a special meeting of the commissioners, the hearing will be held in the commissioners' chambers at police barracks and will be open to the public.

An investigation into the controversy was begun last week when the board of police commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution offered by Commissioner Aldine Chambers calling for such action. Following a thorough discussion of the affair, it was unanimously decided that the proper thing to do was to have a public hearing in order that any citizens wishing to appear before the board in connection with the matter might do so.

It was pointed out that nothing but facts will be heard from informants at the hearing, as rumors and third and fourth hand information will only serve to complicate the investigation. It was intimated by the commissioners that they had full confidence in the diligence of the detective and police departments, but inasmuch as reflections had been cast on the department, a public hearing should be called in justice to the departments.

Solicitor Boykin and all other officials of the city or state are especially invited to appear before the board. J. W. Maddox, chairman

POWERS PREDICTS SENTENCE IN CASE BY FIVE FINGERS

Maximum Punishment Under Law Given to Alleged Swindler by Jury at 2 O'Clock Wednesday Afternoon.

NEW TRIAL WILL BE SOUGHT BY DEFENSE

"Any Man Who Plays With Crooked Dice, Cards or Horses Ought to Be Trimmed," Says John S. McClelland.

When the jurors, who for two days had been trying Abe Powers on a charge of having swindled two wealthy farmers out of $11,000 by means of a wire-tapping scheme, entered the superior courtroom of Fulton county yesterday afternoon shortly after 2 o'clock and announced that they were ready to return a verdict, Powers proved his prowess as a prophet.

Turning to the press table, he raised his hand and showed five extended fingers. When he did so he smiled, though the smile was sickly. The next moment displayed his accuracy. The solicitor general read the verdict. It was that the jury had found him guilty and that his maximum punishment was five years, his minimum punishment was the same thing, and then Powers closed his five fingers.

Still trying to smile, and still chewing gum with a feverish eagerness that betrayed his emotion, he stood to receive his sentence. That delivered he returned to prison and to his wife, still held in the Tower on suspicion of being implicated with the alleged wire tappers.

Appeal Is Announced. His counsel, Sam Hewlett and John McClelland, immediately announced that they would appeal the case on the ground that the conviction had been on a charge of larceny after trust and that there had been no trust. In their arguments both admitted that there had probably been a simple larceny.

The jury was then discharged. "I hope you'll find your families all well after your long absence," said Judge Humphries. As the jurors filed out of the courtroom H. C. Holley, one of the alleged victims, stood at the door and thanked each man individually. Wade Lamar, the other man said to have been fleeced, was not in the room when the verdict was rendered.

It took the jury less than a half hour to reach its conclusions. During that time Powers sat at a table immediately in front of the bench and talked glibly and volubly with counsel, reporters, spectators, or anybody else that gathered within earshot. He was palpably nervous.

While he talked he pounded on in from all directions and it was soon apparent that, at the rate they were coming in it would be a physical impossibility for him even to read them all. Consequently he announced Wednesday morning that he could give attention to no letters not already in the mail. The notes continued to come in, however, scores of them bearing special delivery stamps in the hope that they would arrive in time for a reply.

He will continue, however, for the rest of the week to reply through this paper to the letters already received. It will take every minute of his spare time to consider the vast volume of mail now piled up in his office.

Inasmuch as Alexander lays claim to no occult power, his replies must necessarily be considered only on their face value. He declares that he has no power which the ordinary man could not cultivate if he were to give a life study to the subject. Many believe, however, that this disclaimer of Alexander's is used to cloak a deeper power than he would care to admit.

Following is the third installment of questions and answers.

Right Mother Has the Child In Famous Mixed Baby Case Alexander Tells J. C. Garner

"John Clarence Garner—John Clarence Garner! Please answer 'here!'"

And there was the stillness of the tomb in the great audience at the Atlanta-theater last night that for more than an hour had giggled and whispered and laughed while Alexander, "The Man Who Knows," was displaying his mental prowess.

Garner arose from a seat near the front of the house. There was an anxiety in his face. His fingers twitched as Alexander asked him to hold his hand.

The audience recognized him as the father who for more than a year fought for the possession of Mary Elizabeth Pittman, the famous infant of Atlanta's mixed baby case.

"Mr. Garner," said Alexander in a voice that was modulated to tones of tenderness from the previously employed, "you are wondering if a member of your family is alive or dead. Are you not?"

"The member of your family about whom you worry was an infant—a girl. Was it not?"

Again Garner bowed.

"That baby is dead."

And again the audience that had been gasping its thrill had the silence of a pall.

"You are in doubt whether a living baby is yours or is the baby of another family?"

"Yes," replied Garner.

"That baby is not yours. It is the baby of Mr. and Mrs. Pittman."

The audience roared its applause.

Alexander, then told Garner, who was evidently crushed by his revelations, that if he would forget his litigation and put his mind on his work he would have two promotions within the next year.

After the performance Garner declared that although Alexander had a mystifying detail as to the famous case, he was not satisfied that Mary Elizabeth was not his child.

"But I hate to tell my wife about what he said," he said. "It will come mighty near to killing her."

WILSON REMOVES GREATEST CLOUD IN LEAGUE SKIES

Armenian Problem, Greatest Menace to Assembly, Cleared by Wilson's Offer to Act as Mediator.

Geneva, December 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—The League of Nations city showed a far more cheerful aspect today than at any time since the delegates to the assembly began to gather from the four corners of the earth. The sun came out strong for the first time; the dull, anxious expressions disappeared from many faces and petty annoyances were lost sight of because the Armenia cloud which has menaced the assembly has been broken by President Wilson's acceptance of the role of mediator.

Even Arthur J. Balfour, of the British delegation, who all along has been skeptical of the results of mediation with Mustafa Kemal Pasha, Turkish Nationalist leader, expressed gratification this evening at seeing the United States, Brazil and Spain—two Americas and Europe—joining hands in an endeavor to settle the vexing problem.

The British statesman frankly said that all his doubts regarding the possibility of arriving at any sort of satisfactory understanding with Mustafa Kemal had not yet disappeared. But one result, he pointed out, had been obtained, and that was "the wonderful spectacle of North and South America and Europe getting together to try to settle a difficulty in an obscure corner of the Black Sea."

Warm Satisfaction. "If one had suggested it five years ago," he added, "the world would have regarded as a dreamer and would indeed have been a dreamer had the league of nations not come in the meantime."

Rene Viviani, representing France, expressed the warmest satisfaction over President Wilson's message, and was during the day the object of many congratulations, it being generally conceded that it was his efforts in the assembly that saved the Armenian question from falling a victim to delay.

The first of the former enemy powers—Austria—is now assured a Long List of City Officials, All of Them Without Opposition, Were Given Good Votes.

Receiving more than double the number of votes cast for his opponent in Wednesday's general city election, William L. McCalley, Jr., was victorious over W. Garland Cooper in the race for the office of commissioner on the board of education from the fifth district comprising the seventh and tenth wards. This was the only contest on the ticket.

Mr. McCalley received a total of 1,612 votes against 741 for Mr. Cooper, giving him a majority of 871 votes. Each candidate carried his home ward, the seventh going for Mr. McCalley and Mr. Cooper taking the tenth.

The contest between the two candidates was for the unexpired term of Fred E. Winburn, who recently resigned as representative from the fifth district. The term expires on January 1, 1922.

Gay Throng Escapes As 9-Story Building Falls Into Broadway

One Believed Dead and Six Injured in Terrific Crash That Came Without Warning.

New York, December 1.—Seven stories of a 9-story red brick building on the northeast corner of Broadway and Fifty-second street, came down into Fifty-second street with a roar and a rending of timbers and a cloud of red dust as the district thereabouts swarmed with busy people at dusk, Wednesday.

At least one person is believed to have been killed and six persons, three of them buried in the wreckage and later rescued injured. The building was being remodeled, and only the ground floor was occupied.

The man believed to have been killed was Jeff Smith, a foreman employed by the wrecking company. Broadway was crowded with shoppers, workers hurrying to their homes and afternoon theater-goers were in the district when a terrific crash rent the air as the building toppled into the street. Fortunately the bulk of the debris fell into Fifty-second street, which was comparatively free from vehicular and pedestrian traffic, although tons of wreckage slid into Broadway itself.

Searchers expressed fear tonight that other pedestrians seen passing the building may have been caught beneath the tons of wreckage, covering the sidewalk in places to a depth of six feet.

Smaller crashes occurred at intervals tonight as sections of the wall, which remained standing after the first collapse, gave way. Other tottering sections threatened the lives of firemen and policemen, who searched the debris for bodies in the glare of searchlights.

Kissed Her Wrist, Walked Away. Elizabeth Kine, 17, a stenographer in the Sidney B. Bowman auto salesroom on the first floor, which was the only floor of the building that was occupied for business during the remodeling operation, was thrown under her desk by the upheaval in the office as the wreck-

STATE OF WAR BEGINS FRIDAY; COAST BLOCKADED

Italy Serves Notice on Poet in Command of Fiume Insurgents It Intends to Enforce Treaty of Rapallo.

WATERS ABOUT FIUME ARE UNDER BLOCKADE

General Caviglia Calls Upon Regency at Fiume Not to Prevent the Free Departure of Italian Warships.

Triest, December 1.—(By The Associated Press.)—D'Annunzio has sent an ultimatum to Italy from Fiume, declaring a state of war from December 3.

London, December 2.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, in command of the insurgents at Fiume, has declared war on Italy, according to a Milan dispatch to The London Times. The state of war will begin Friday.

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT TO ENFORCE TREATY. Rome, December 1.—General Caviglia, commander of the Italian regulars investing Fiume, in a proclamation to be conveyed to D'Annunzio's forces by airplane, says it is the intention of the Italian government to enforce the conditions of the Rapallo treaty without delay. This announcement is made in a newspaper dispatch from Trieste.

The proclamation invites the poet's legionnaires to withdraw behind the frontiers of the free state of Fiume and refrain from useless resistance to the energetic measures the Italian government is prepared to take.

BLOCKADE PROCLAIMED ON FIUME COAST. Rome, December 1.—It is semi-officially announced that, as the government's order calling upon the regency of Fiume to withdraw its troops behind the frontiers had not been obeyed, General Caviglia has summoned the regency not to prevent the free departure of Italian warships from the port of Fiume. He has also proclaimed a blockade of the coast of the state of Fiume the islands of Veglia and Arbe, and the neighboring waters.

BLOCKADE NOT INTENDED TO HINDER COMMERCE. London, Dec. 2.—The Milan correspondent of The London Times discussing the semi-official announcement of the proclamation of the blockade of Fiume, says that the blockade is only intended to prevent any eventual hostile movement and not to hinder commerce. The correspondent adds:

"D'Annunzio has replied that he will instruct the regency of Fiume to ask for his passports and will consider the regency of Fiume at war with Italy from December 3."

"In a private letter to the national society at Trieste, D'Annunzio after inviting the nationalists to erect barricades, calls Caviglia a traitor and Gialitelli a madman."

Here is the difference, Madam. When you shop by guess you must work harder, and you know that, while there is a lot of pleasure in shopping, there is also a lot of work.

And, too, you are never certain that you are getting the BEST values, for it is impossible for you to see all offerings in person.

When you shop through the columns of The Constitution you have before you the offerings of ALL the merchants and without moving from your comfortable chair you determine exactly what to buy and where to buy, thus saving time, energy and money.

Japan, China, Sweden, Uruguay, Cuba, Peru, Great Britain and France were represented by their charges d'affaires, while Guatemala, Salvador, Honduras and Nicaragua sent special delegations.

Prior to the inauguration ceremony the aldermen of Mexico City

His address being replied to by Governor Larrazolo, of New Mexico, who spoke on behalf of the visiting American governors.

Shortly before midnight those at the banquet started for the chamber of deputies, making their way through a dense crowd of soldiers. General Obregon entered the chamber with Provisional President de la Huerta.

Immediately General Obregon had taken his seat on the rostrum the oath was administered and after brief congratulations he retired in company with Senor de la Huerta, who today takes the oath as President Obregon's secretary of the treasury.

City Is Carnival.

With its new president safely installed in office, Mexico City made carnival for the remainder of the night. The cafes, which normally close at midnight, offered special musical programs and dancing beginning at that hour. In the streets holiday crowds threw confetti and bands played.

President Obregon planned to start his official life with a reception at the national palace today at which the new cabinet was to be sworn in and probably short addresses made both by the new president and the retiring executive. Provisional President de la Huerta. His induction into office will make small change in President Obregon's domestic affairs. He has announced that he will not live in Chapultepec castle, the magnificent presidential home provided by the government, because he does not "want his boys to tear it up." ## Let's All Travel To Jail; Prison Food Takes Drop Sheriff Tells the County Board He Can Now Feed Prisoners for 60 Cents a Day—Lowry Praised.

If the Fulton county courthouse roof had suddenly shimmied and jumped off to Hunter street there couldn't have been much more astonishment than that which electrified the county commissioners at their Wednesday afternoon meeting. With finances all gone wrong there came a way of light, a gleam of hope, a shaft of sunshine.

They are not going to cut the food of the prisoners in the Tower they're not going to lessen the quality which the prisoners themselves have always praised, but—

Sheriff J. L. Lowry announced Wednesday afternoon that, owing to the recent drop in food prices, he will be able to ration the inmates of the Tower on 60 cents per day the prisoner—instead of the 75 cents he has been allowed during the era of ascendant prices. He also told the board that they might cut the appropriation to meet the reduced exigency.

The board, after recovering consciousness, was led in a vote of thanks to the sheriff by Oscar Mills, who sat in the presiding officer's chair. Brows were mopped, eyes were rubbed, the several commissioners pinched themselves to see if they were really alive. They unanimously realized that, after all, they had no right to be surprised.

Some time ago, when the allowance for the prison rations was dropped to 75 cents, the sheriff had told the board that when prices rose to a level which would permit a reduction in the allowance, he would tell the board, and that they need not worry about it, but the age of flattened pocketbooks had so permeated them with its spirit that they were not ready for the optimistic disclosure of the sheriff when he made good on his official promise.

One of the residents of the castle said to the Associated Press this afternoon: "The empress, realizing the seriousness of her condition, is quite resigned, and actually longs for the end of her sufferings, which began in 1917."

and gave her Atlanta address as 305 East Hunter street.

Wilbur Leggett, of 20 East Tenth street, an eye-witness to the accident, who was standing inside the Wincoff lobby, near the front window, stated that in his opinion the accident could not have been avoided. He helped carry the injured man inside the hotel.

The two young women stopped their machine immediately after the accident, and picking up the hat and spectacles of their victim, went inside the hotel, and summoned an ambulance.

Mr. Leggett accompanied Mr. Fuller to St. Joseph's hospital, where he was attended by Drs. Leroy E. Childs and Samuel Green. Miss Yates and Mrs. Langford afterwards inquired at the hospital as to Mr. Fuller's condition.

Miss Yates presented herself at the office of Night Chief Jett Wednesday night, and she was held without bond pending the coming of Mr. Fuller's injuries. Early this morning he had not regained consciousness, but physicians said that his apparent strength was encouraging.

age came through the ceiling. For twenty minutes she screamed as though in mortal agony. When firemen finally extricated Elizabeth she kissed a bruise on her wrist, patted her coiffure and walked out. Her injuries were trivial. The desk had protected her.

Ten men employed in the same saloon moved into dugouts under the office desks and emerged unhurt when the barriers of debris had been wrenched away.

Yelled Warning.

Thomas Lynch, a structural ironworker, 43 years old, yelled a warning to his friend, and fellow-worker, Chester Smith, 35, as the first rumble gave warning that the building was coming down. With that, Lynch took a running jump out of the second story window, landing in the midst of a Broadway crowd, without being seriously hurt.

The front wall of the building facing Broadway, did not fall, but traffic on Broadway was detained until its stability could be tested. The backwall, giving onto a court, came down just before the Fifty-second street wall.

The wreck is within a minute of the Winter Garden, the Capitol theater, the big Roseland Dancing pavilion, Churchill's famous cabaret and several other famous Broadway centers of gaiety.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

"They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel 'lousy' and 'heavy.' Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 15c and 30c a box. (adv.)"

EXPECT SPIRITED FIGHT FOR BAIL

Attorney for Defense in Shepard Case to Attempt to Force Hand of Solicitor Garrett at Hearing for Bail.

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special.)—That Solicitor General Garrett will be forced to produce his evidence of guilt against the parties now under arrest in connection with the Shepard poisoning case at the hearing for bail here next Tuesday, was the statement issued today by attorneys for Mrs. F. Eugene Elmer, former wife of Shepard; Mrs. Iona Henry, sister of Mrs. Elmer; Ernest Hopson, son of Mrs. Elmer; a former marriage, and Mrs. Annie Cutts, wife of a prominent Fitzgerald attorney, all of whom are now under arrest on warrants charging murder.

Solicitor Garrett announced today that he is not planning to present his whole case at the hearings, explaining connection with this announcement that it has not been customary in other important murder cases in middle Georgia in recent years. "Enough evidence will be produced, however, to make out a case," he stated.

Attorneys for the defense claim that no evidence whatsoever has been produced so far in the case to warrant holding their clients and a spirited fight is expected to ensue at the hearing. The offices of the attorneys involved in the case are quiet today in preparation of arguments for bail.

Application for bail for Mrs. Annie Cutts will be made before Judge Mathews some time this week, her counsel stated late today. Attorneys for the defense will ask that all of the applications for bail be considered at the hearing to be held here next Tuesday.

Solicitor C. H. Garrett and attorneys for the defendants declared today there were no immediate prospects of additional arrests.

W. A. McClellan has been retained by the state to assist the solicitor general in the prosecution. R. L. Berner, a former candidate for governor, was retained by Elmer's defense. Mrs. Annie Cutts, wife of a prominent Fitzgerald attorney, all of whom are now under arrest on warrants charging murder.

includes an automobile ride by Mrs. Alice Crandall, sister of Shepard, and Mrs. Sidney McMillan, of Fort Valley, from Fort Valley to Abbeville, while the investigation was in its infancy. Mrs. Crandall is said to have been summoned to Abbeville at that time for "important information" bearing on the death of her brother. Mrs. McMillan accompanied her, it is said, and no one else was in the car at the time.

A story was published today that Mrs. Crandall was summoned to Abbeville by Mrs. Annie Cutts, who since has been arrested. "That's not true," said Attorney R. L. Berner, who represents Mrs. Cutts. Mr. Berner refused to discuss the case, but branded that feature of the story as "a lie." So far as known it does not tally with the line of evidence in the hands of the state, it is said.

Mrs. Crandall is said to have seen other parties when she went to Abbeville and any information she may have obtained will be produced at the proper time, it is learned.

Elmer Returns Saturday
Dr. F. Eugene Elmer, husband of Mrs. Elmer, returned to Jacksonville, Fla., Monday, but is expected to return to Macon Saturday, it was learned today when it was found that he had returned to his local hotel for himself and chauffeur on Saturday.

Despite his repeated denial of having made any statements, it was Dr. Elmer who predicted the "fifth arrest" in a quarter hither to unexpected as a result of Ernest Hopson's confession, which will come before a week has passed. "At the same time he declared that the Crandall money is behind the prosecution."

Law Offices Quiet.
The law offices of Macon, which have become an excellent barometer of developments in the Shepard case, had quieted down today to the task of preparing their rights for bond, which is expected to be the day contested by Solicitor General Garrett.

Mrs. Elmer Hysterical.
Mrs. F. Eugene Elmer, held in the Bibb county jail, has been hysterical ever since her arrival there. Mrs. Iona Henry is still under guard at her home in Perry. Ernest Hopson is now in custody in the Perry jail.

El. A. Cutts, prominent Savannah cotton broker and Shriner arrived in Macon today and immediately visited his sister-in-law, Mrs. Annie Cutts.

Atlanta Chamber Directors Named

Albert S. Adams and Beaumont Davison Are Two New Members of the Board to Win in Election.

Announcement of the election of directors of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce for the 1921-1922 term, to serve with those elected last year for 1920-1921, featured the Wednesday forum luncheon of that body.

The choice of the chamber members for the board includes two new names, Albert S. Adams and Beaumont Davison. The following old members of the board won in the election in which 975 members of the chamber cast their votes: Forrest Adair, J. P. Allen, Lee Ashcraft, Eugene R. Black, Harry P. Hermance, and Frank M. Inman. The ticket contained the names of sixteen nominees from which the eight were chosen. A committee, appointed by President Eugene R. Black, of the chamber, and headed by W. T. Percy, made the official count and announcement. The others serving on the committee were Wade Davis, S. W. Hines, T. T. Wiedelaw, C. F. Roddey and J. M. Russell.

Richard Temple Sings.
Another interesting feature of the luncheon, which was presided over by E. Harry Goodhart, in the absence of President Black, was the rendition by Richard Temple of several interesting selections from "The Three Musketeers," the operatic version of Dumas' novel, the music of which was composed by Mr. Temple. Mr. Temple and Michael Dempsey are now promoting a company known as "The Atlantics," which will produce the opera.

Mr. Temple sang several excerpts from the score, accompanying himself on the piano and taking alternately the bass, tenor and baritone roles which occurred. The gathering was also addressed by Mr. Dempsey, who told the chamber members and their guests something of their plans for the ultimate production of the light opera on the New York stage.

Great interest was manifested also in the open forum discussion of the proposed world's fair for Atlanta in 1925, and several expressions both for and against the movement were heard. The consensus of opinion seemed to be that there were great possibilities for the city in such an event, but that nothing should be done without full consideration of all the responsibilities attendant on such an undertaking.

Discuss World Fair.
Robert S. Troutman, a vice president of the chamber, told of certain reasons which had been advanced against the proposition, such as the fact that Atlanta could spend $5,000,000 to much better advantage in bettering the condition of her streets and schools, so that she would be in a better position later to invite the great multitude of visitors here. He also told of favorable opinions on the project, such as the stimulus to better business and a better city which it would probably represent.

Frank Weldon and Will V. Zimmer also made brief talks on the proposal. Mr. Weldon stating that an educational program for the general public would be necessary before such a problem could be undertaken and Mr. Zimmer expressing the opinion that if such a move were made, it would greatly benefit the hotel situation in Atlanta ultimately, in that it would necessarily call for more and better hotels.

C. D. Gleason told of a canvass he had made of several hundred business men, 98 per cent of whom favored the plan.

Negro Population Of Northern Cities Shows an Increase

Washington, December 1.—The negro population of Oklahoma, Oklahoma was announced today by the census bureau as 2,372, an increase of 1,596, or 145.1 per cent. The white population was placed at 13,967, an increase of 11,241, or 412.4 per cent. Chinese, Indians and Japanese numbered 91.

The negro population of East St. Louis, Illinois, was announced as 7,433, an increase of 1,551. The white population numbered 59,395, an increase of 6,660 or 12.7 per cent. Chinese, Indians and Japanese were placed at 28.

Protective Tariff on Cotton Favored

Chicago, December 1.—A protective tariff on cotton, rice and wheat was advocated before the National Association of Agriculture today by Harry D. Wilson, of Louisiana, who declared that although he was a democrat, he favored protection for the farmers.

E. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, and E. W. Davis, president of the association, were other speakers. Mr. Davis said that a large production of food is the only way to prevent a return to war-time prices.

"We can have no additional production, however, if the fruits of farm labor are to be blasted by falling markets when the harvest comes, leaving the farmer less money than it cost him to raise his crops," Mr. Davis said.

"When the farmers return is less than the cost of production, restricted production and high prices follow." Thousands of acres of cotton in Texas are unpicked, he said, because it costs $10 more to pick and bundle a bale of cotton in Texas than the cotton will bring on the market."

Greenville, S. C., December 1.—Sixty-eight patients from all parts of the country, in the United States public health service hospital at Camp Sevier, had a narrow escape about midnight last night when fire practically destroyed wards 16 and 17. ## STRONG MEN SOMETIMES TIRE EASILY

But Refuse to Believe That They Are Tired Out—Run Down

EVEN ATHLETES NEED TONIC

This Husky Chap Admits It, and Twice a Year Takes Pepto-Mangan, Red Blood Builder

He is tall (almost six feet), weighs 185, plays golf, works his own garden, and is stronger than most men. He is the picture of health, looks as vigorous as a football player.

But he is a bit anemic, gets tired too easily, is inclined to constipation, is more nervous than a normal man should be, and is subject to disfiguring pimples.

He told all this himself, and added, "Whenever I have the sense or the memory to take two or three bottles of Gude's Pepto-Mangan in the late fall and early spring, I am as right as a trivet. The trouble is, to remind me to take Pepto-Mangan twice a year. It would be worth my while to do so." Gude's Pepto-Mangan is an absolutely dependable red-blood builder in all conditions of low red vitality, not due to serious disease of the internal organs. It improves the appetite, imparts color to the cheeks, and creates new hope and ambition in those who have become pale, weak, and listless. Physicians recommend Gude's Pepto-Mangan. When you order, be sure the word "Gude's" is on the package. With-out "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Mangan. Furnished in both liquid and tablet form. For sale by all druggists. (adv.)

DOESN'T NEED ANY LAXATIVES NOW

Mr. Becker says life is a joy, without constipation or stomach trouble.

"I had catarrh of the stomach and head for three years. My stomach was so bad that every time I ate anything sweet, such as fruit or pastry, the burning hot water would run out of my mouth. I took a laxative every night.

"Since taking Milks Emulsion, my bowels move regularly. I have now taken ten bottles and have gained 10-12 pounds. All my friends remark how fine I am looking, and it seems a pleasure to live again without stomach trouble."—Bert Becker, Miami, Ohio.

Physicians usually make "slaves out of their users, and weaken the bowels instead of correcting them. Stomach trouble in many cases is directly due to constipation.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, it is unsurpassed.

Physicians recommend to those whom sickness has weakened, and it is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved.

This is the best solid emulsion made, and is so delicious that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price, 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—(adv.)

WOODMEN INDORSE WORLD EXPOSITION HERE DURING 1925

Capital City camp, No. 786, Woodmen of the World, at its regular monthly meeting Wednesday night, joined many other fraternal organizations of this city in giving hearty indorsement to plans for an Atlanta world's fair in 1925.

Approval of this movement was given in resolutions unanimously adopted following a speech by Mr. Gleason, of the fair publicity committee, in which the speaker set forth the great fraternal, industrial and commercial benefits promised by the movement.

Adoption of the resolutions, which were unanimously passed, followed the regular annual election of officers for Capital City camp. G. A. Wright, well known in Atlanta railroad circles, was re-elected in the post of consul commander. Tributes to his efforts toward the upbuilding of the lodge were paid by different speakers.

Other officers elected were: Dr. Herbert B. Kennedy, advisor; Lieutenant: Craddock Goins, sovereign; George L. Holmes, escort; Homer Pitts, sovereign clerk; L. M. Herden, sovereign watchman; W. C. Hammond, sovereign secretary; W. C. Jackson, and M. N. Smith, auditors; J. W. Stephens, captain of the degree team.

The program for the holiday season to be held by Capital City camp on the evening December 21 was announced. It will include an address by Dr. C. A. Ridley, pastor of Central Baptist church; entertainment by members of the Old-Time Georgia Piddlers; recitations, songs and motion pictures.

DARING ROBBERS GET POLICE FUNDS AS COPS SEEK THEM

High Point, N. C., Dec. 1.—The climax to the current series of burglaries, which have resulted in local merchants sleeping in their stores to guard their merchandise, has been capped—police funds have been stolen from police headquarters while the night force was out in search of burglars. On Monday night when the police headquarters was vacated for a brief period, a police locker was entered and about $75 in currency taken.

their right of franchise under the provisions of the nineteenth amendment to the national constitution. Approximately 2,000 were registered, but no accurate figure as to how many participated in the election was possible, since no list was kept of the voters. They voted in each ward upon presentation of a certificate from Lucien Harris, county registrar.

Very few scratches of the names of unopposed candidates were reported.

Insert Johnson's Name.

In the fifth ward, precinct B, the returns showed that thirteen of those who voted inserted the name of W. H. Johnson for the unexpired term as city warden, and three citizens did likewise at precinct B, in the sixth ward. He was also the nominee for the full term.

According to an announcement made by Mr. Johnson Tuesday he will use the votes received by him for the unexpired term as the basis for a request to Mayor Key to certify his election and qualify him at once. The unexpired term extends to July 1.

According to a ruling of City Attorney James L. Mayson several days ago when Mr. Johnson asked that his name be placed on the ticket for the unexpired term, F. A. Johnson, elected by council to succeed the late Marcus Strickland, may continue in office until July 1. W. H. Johnson has taken exception to his ruling and today is expected to carry the matter to the mayor and ask to be qualified. Should the mayor refuse he intimated that he may employ legal procedure.

Fighters Worth What They Draw Should Be Paid On That Basis

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY

Monday night a champion of the world fought in an Atlanta ring against a local boy who was generally conceded only a fair chance to lift the title. It was a good fight; good enough to please the fans, and that's what the promoter was after—that, and making a "piece of change" for himself.

The champion was well paid for his services, because he worked on a flat guarantee that assured his money, whether the promoter took in a dime at the gate or not. The local boy received a good bit for his part in the festivities, and there was general smiling, except in the case of the promoter, who had nothing but receipted bills to show for his work in arranging the match.

This is for no reason other than the modern fighters are insisting on fat guarantees, and giving little when the public is pleased or not. In this instance, the Atlanta fought for his share of the receipts, from the champion, for a guarantee the size of which almost brought a heavy loss on the head of the unfortunate promoter.

This system is all wrong. Champion, or no champion, a fighter is worth to a promoter, a fighter is worth as an attraction. If a ring performer is magnet enough to attract a well-filled house, he is entitled to a just share of the receipts, and we maintain that he is not worth a penny more.

Guarantees were unheard of in the old days of the ring game, and the practice of giving them should be halted by every fight promoter in the country. As long as there is a universe, men are going to seek their fortunes in prize fighting; in doing this they must eat; and to eat they must find battles. Every promoter would adopt the percentage system, the habit of guaranteeing would be abandoned, and the financial risks the promoters take would be abolished.

Huge guarantees come along with profiteering in other lines and now that the tendency to bring things back to earth appears to be getting a firm foothold, the matter of flat sums for boxers should be brought up for instant annihilation.

Girls' Basketball League Organized for Business.

In another column of this page, an account of the meeting of the officials of the Girls' Basketball league yesterday. The girls' basketball and the women of the south have not been acquainted for many years, but now they are. All accounts will be the most successful in the history of Georgia and other states of this. The girls' game is one that appears to be ideally suited for feminine players, and great interest is being shown. The last year the girls ended in a triple tie and huge crowds saw this trio of splendid teams.

Hard battles for the honors, the last year of Fulton High finally coming through with a victory. It was to believe J. C. Fife, Jr., who is an expert in all questions concerning the ladies, and especially regarding feminine basketball. The championship team of last year lost most of her stars, and there seems to be ample grounds for believing that every quintet in the association has an excellent chance to copy the approaching season's rag.

Oglethorpe Gridders Are Given Banquet.

The Oglethorpe Gridders, after a gridding season that won the admiration of football fans in every section of the south, were banqueted at the university last night, and at last reports, the stormy birds were in good state. Captain John Knox starting as usual in this his second favorite pastime.

There were a few addresses made and the Petrels proved to be as good in the listening line as they are in the eating department. Harry H. Hermance, donor of the great athletic field, named in his honor in his address, predicted great things for Oglethorpe's future in the athletic world, and Coach Walter B. "Jogger" Block, who developed a good machine from mediocre material, said that he was confident of a good season in 1921.

LARGE RECEIPTS MARKED SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH

The gross receipts of the Georgia Tech Athletic association for the football season that ended with the Thursday game with the Tigers was close to the $30,000 mark.

Paid admissions to the games were around the $6,000 mark, setting a record for the south. Fair weather during the season and the strong teams which came to play on Georgia Tech's field, were the factors in the large receipts. Even with the gross receipts nearing the $30,000 mark, the net gain of the association will be much less than last year due to the fact that additional receipts for the Georgia Tech football season were around the $10,000 mark.

The record crowd of the season was in the final clash with the Auburn Tigers Thanksgiving day. The gross receipts from this game were around the $28,000 mark, the largest in the history of Georgia Tech athletics. The Centre game drew the second largest attendance, with a little more than 17,000, and the game turning in $21,000. Georgia Tech drew a crowd that was a little more than 15,000 for the game with Vanderbilt. Wake Forest, Davidson and Clemson also drew large crowds. The admissions and the gate receipts in round numbers was $17,000.

Pittsburgh, December 1.—A federal grand jury here today returned indictments against Herbert Du Puy, former president and chairman of the board of directors of the Crucible Steel Company of America, and George A. Turville, former vice president and secretary-treasurer, charging them with conspiracy to defraud the United States government out of income and excess profits taxes said to amount to several million dollars.

Underlying companies of the Crucible Steel Company of America mentioned in the indictment are the Halcomb Steel Company, Crucible Steel Mining and Milling Company, Hudson Railroad and Transportation Company, Penn Connecting Railroad Company, Crucible Steel Company, Crucible Coal Company, Crucible Fuel Company, and the Midland Improvement Company.

METHODISTS PLAN EDUCATION DRIVE AT MEMPHIS MEET

Memphis, Tenn., December 1.—A preliminary campaign, to continue through the month of December was decided on by the educational leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, in conference here today, for the purpose of arousing greater interest among the laity in the necessity for Christian education. This month of propaganda is to be followed by another conference in Memphis early in January, at which definite plans will be mapped out for the effort to secure $25,000,000 for the advancement of Christian education in the various schools and colleges of the church in the southern states.

This latter campaign is to be launched on April 21 and to continue through the year.

The sessions of the conference today were devoted to the discussion of methods for arousing interest in Christian education among church men, and of securing the 5,000 young men and women volunteers needed for ministers and for missionary work. The plans adopted involve the use of part of the machinery used in the centenary campaign, and also the organization of the alumni of the various educational institutions of the church for work along the lines decided on. The conference adjourned tonight.

Ideas on Inheritance Acquired by Garland In Greenwich Village

New York, December 1.—Henry D. Tudor, managing trustee of the $20,000,000 estate which Charles Garland of Buzzard's Bay, Mass., recently refused to accept, said today in a statement that he thought young Garland acquired his ideas regarding inheritance from associations formed in Greenwich Village, New York, in Bohemian quarters, where he passed four months a few years ago.

Mr. Tudor, who is president of the Commonwealth Finance corporation and a distant relative of young Garland, said that the trustees were "embarrassed" by his attitude in refusing to accept the property. Mr. Tudor declared he was being harassed by his attitude in refusing to accept the property. Mr. Tudor declared he was being harassed by his attitude in refusing to accept the property.

STATE EXECUTIVES SEEK FEDERAL AID

many of the governors have developed prominent positions in national life, their deliberations might be regarded as more than usually important. We have for example Vice President-elect Coolidge, governor of Massachusetts; Senator-elect Peter Norbeck, now governor of South Dakota; senator in prospect, William S. Spruell, now governor of Pennsylvania, but in line for the senate when or if Senator Knox is elevated to secretary of state by Harding. In addition, there is Governor Allen, of Kansas, considered in prospect for the republican presidential nomination in 1924; Governor Parker, of Louisiana, who has progressed vice presidential nominee in 1916, and among the other governors and governors-elect present are to be found prospective statesmen of a later day, or at least aspirants thereto.

Absentees Noted.

There was a notable absence of some of the gubernatorial body, whom recent news treated with an unkind hand. Governor Cox, of Ohio, was not in attendance. Nor was Governor Lowden, of Illinois. With this class of material operating on public questions it is to be expected that this year's conference more than in past years will be overflowing with constructive suggestions. These suggestions are to follow three main lines of thought: Aid for farmers and the agricultural industry generally; measures for improving industrial conditions with special attention to the industrial course law adopted in Kansas, and housing. Under the subject of agriculture, rural and forcign trade credits will be discussed with a view to recommending definite suggestions to congress.

To the more serious aspects of the conference space will be devoted in a later story. For the moment it is perhaps interesting to get a bird's-eye view of the proceedings. The morning session was devoted to the morning session of the state at the capitol, similar oratory at the city's welcome at a noonday banquet and more personal and formal welcomes by Governor and Mrs. Spruell at the mansion in the evening, revealed the visitors at their oratorical best.

All Like Harrisburg.

Thirty out of thirty-nine odd governors and governors-elect boasted family trees, either personal or those now growing in their respective front yards, which originated in Pennsylvania. About the same number agreed that Harrisburg was one of the most beautiful spots in the world, and that they would like to live here. Governor Bartlett, of New Hampshire, meeting Governor-elect Lake, of Connecticut, at the hotel, "Good morning, governor," when he met him in the Hotel Penn-Harris. "Twenty years ago," he responded, "Good morning," just to let the world know. For a composite picture of the group, the hat must tend to the sombrero type, the air should be gray, the coat should be cut-away, the shirt white and hard-boiled, and the weight about 170 pounds. Governor and Mrs. Coolidge are the guests of honor at the conference, and have the distinction of being the only visitors to be housed at the Spruell mansion.

Frost Came In Handy.

Governor Banbury, of Utah, appeared to be the oldest and shortest governor at the conference. Governor Goodrich, of Indiana, is the tallest and the easiest to see, but the hardest to hear. Governor McKelvie, of Nebraska, is the youngest. Governor Spruell is the handsomest. Governor Allen claims the most unique administrative record. During his period of office, he declares, there have been no grasshoppers nor cyclones in Kansas, while the corn crop so tall this season that it was lucky the frost stopped it.

At half-past 10 the session was scheduled to begin with addresses of welcome by Governor Spruell on behalf of Pennsylvania, and Lieutenant Governor Edward E. Bellidre, speaking in the name of Harrisburg. Responses were made by Governor Thomas E. Campbell, of Arizona.

Each of the subsequent prepared addresses was to be followed by a general discussion of the subjects on the program for discussion were:

Efforts being made by the national conference on uniform state laws to unify civil and criminal statutes in the various states were explained to the conference by Judge William M. Hargest, of Harrisburg, Pa.

"The desire for uniformity extends to laws regulating commerce and business affairs, but does not seem to extend to those which regulate family and domestic matters," Judge Hargest said.

"The extreme southern states have been the least successful in suggestions of the conference, he declared.

"Arizona and Mississippi have adopted five suggestions, and other southern border states a less number. Wisconsin leads in the number of acts recommended by a conference, having adopted 17; Maryland has adopted 12; Massachusetts, 12; Illinois and Tennessee, 11; Alaska, 10; Michigan and Louisiana, 9; New Jersey and Utah, 8; Idaho, Nevada and Pennsylvania, 7. In this state the legislature has confined its attention to action on commercial laws."

Laws Governing Aircraft.

"Laws regulating aircraft should be passed uniformly in all states," he said. "Already there is discussion concerning the rights and duties of aircraft, and laws on this subject will become necessary as transportation by such means increases. The right to recover damages for landing in unauthorized places, and flying too low will have to be defined or prevented."

Blue Laws Don't Enthusias.

A majority of the governors and governors-elect here aren't very enthusiastic about the proposed strict Sunday blue laws. They feel, for the most part, that they are already sufficiently hard-worked that they are entitled to choose their own mode of recreation on Sunday. The western governors, who were hardly familiar with the movement started in the east to curtail Sunday pleasures.

There is not one good reason why any man purchasing a suit of clothes should not come to this store for it. We have gone the limit to reduce prices; we have taken our dose and can truthfully say that we feel better. The new faces we see covered with smiles at the thought of again seeing their old friends (the $25, $30 and $35 suit) is ample reward for the temporary money loss which we are sustaining. ## SOUTHERN PACIFIC FORMS OIL BRANCH

New York, December 1.—Organization of a new company to be known as the Pacific Oil company, was announced here tonight by the Southern Pacific company as the chief feature of its plan providing for the separation of its oil and railroad properties.

The new company will be organized under the laws of the state of Delaware with a capital stock of $2,500,000 shares of no par value, for which the Southern Pacific company will subscribe $15 per share, or $25,000,000.

From this amount the new company will purchase from the Southern Pacific Land company as of January 1, 1921, for about $4,750,000 about 25,000 acres of land now owned by the Southern Pacific Land company, and 209,690 shares having a par value of $20,000,000 of the outstanding capital stock of the Associated Oil company.

The land to be purchased is situated in the state of California. About 25,000 of the 259,000 acres are proven oil lands and the remainder lands heretofore withdrawn from the sale as possible oil lands.

Holders of Southern Pacific shares will be given the right to purchase at $15 per share one share of the stock of the new company for each share of Southern Pacific stock.

The capital stock of the new company is fixed at 3,500,000 shares, to correspond to the total number of shares of Southern Pacific stock outstanding.

The segregation also involves the stock holdings of the Southern Pacific company in the Associated Oil company, of which it owned slightly more than 50 per cent.

Associated Oil is at present receiving dividends at the rate of 6 per cent annually. Net earnings of the Southern Pacific Oil properties for the year 1920 will approximate $12,000,000, according to tonight's statement of the directors, and earnings for 1921, based on present production and prices, are expected to exceed this year's earnings.

The following directors of the Pacific Oil company were named: James S. Alexander, R. D. Caldwell, Henry W. DeForest, Charles F. DeForest, Samuel Rea, Mortimer L. Schiff, E. P. Swenson and Paul Shoup, now president of the Associated Oil company of California.

Christian Science Policy in Future In Hands of Court

Boston, December 1.—The future policy of the Christian Science church lay with the full bench of the supreme court of Massachusetts today. Before an audience that included persons from England and other countries, the court heard the last of the arguments between factions within the church as to the construction of deeds of trust on which Mary Baker Eddy founded the organization and its publishing activities. Except for the filing of briefs the case was declared closed. A decision is not expected before the March sitting of the court.

ASKS RECEIVERSHIP OF CO-OP CONCERN

Boston, December 1.—A petition for the appointment of a receiver for the Lowell Textile company, cotton manufacturers of North Chelmsford, was filed in the federal court today by Clarence N. Frohlich and William C. Barbour, of Memphis, Tenn., who represent themselves as creditors to the extent of $60,896 for cotton sold the company.

The bill of complaint says that the company has plenty of assets to pay the claim without loss to any of its creditors, but that if sale of its goods is forced in order to meet its debts, the property will be completely disintegrated. Judge Anderson set December 6 for a hearing on the petition.

DECKS NOW CLEARED FOR BUILDING PROBE

Woman Stenographer Admits She Destroyed "Quotation Cards."

New York, December 1.—The last legal obstacle to prevent the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust" from making inquiry into the activities of the Building Supply bureau was cleared away tonight, when Supreme Court Justice Hotchkiss decided the committee could retain possession of the books and records seized as evidence at yesterday's hearing.

Justice Hotchkiss also refused Martin Conboy, counsel for the bureau, a stay to prevent the recall of Joseph Penny, chairman of the organization, as a witness before the committee.

While blocked in its investigation of the books of the bureau by the injunction which Justice Hotchkiss vacated, the committee today progressed with its investigation, hearing an admission from Miss Elizabeth O'Dea, stenographer employed in the bureau, that she had destroyed the much sought "quotation cards" of the bureau's card system on estimates.

Directed By Member.

Miss O'Dea, who was once cited for contempt by the legislative committee, declared she had destroyed the cards at the direction of a member of the bureau whose name she could not recall. She asserted, however, that she had done so "some months" before the launching of the inquiry, and after the system had come into disuse.

The "quotation cards" were sought as evidence by the committee, which heard testimony today to the effect that he card system was employed by the bureau to establish a uniformity in prices.

The card system, which it was alleged not only resulted in "uniform" but "higher prices" was operated by Miss O'Dea, whose appearance before the committee counsel for the organization had attempted to prevent by court action several days ago.

Grand Jury Action.

While the domestic was hearing testimony regarding the activities of the bureau and the association of dealers in mason builders' supplies, a number of witnesses, including six employees of John T. Hettrick, all promoters of the "limestone ring" were being heard by the grand jury.

WEST POINT NOW OPEN TO DIXIE APPLICANTS

Chattanooga, Tenn., December 1.—Announcement was made by the commissions on colleges and secondary schools, which today completed the preliminary work for the opening session tomorrow of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, that pupils of high and preparatory schools on the southern list are now eligible to admission to West Point Military academy.

This authorization came from West Point authorities in September, as the result of an investigation of the system used by the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in reference to schools applying for enrollment on the southern list.

The two commissions, which have been in session here for two days, will be ready to report to the association at its initial session tomorrow. Representative educators from all southern states will attend the convention, and several presidents of the larger colleges of the country will also be present.

THE PATRIOTIC COURSE.

James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, former United States senator, who, as the democratic nominee for governor of Illinois, ran 400,000 votes ahead of the presidential ticket in his state, issued a formal statement while on a visit to Washington the other day, in which he briefly outlined what in his opinion should be the attitude of the democratic party toward the Harding administration; and demonstrates everywhere, officeholders and rank and file, could do no better than to follow his suggestion.

"The talk as to the reorganization of the democratic party," he said—

"Is premature and profitless. The Democrats have no issue at present upon which to reorganize. The next foreign policy fight of the democratic party must turn on the conditions that the future events bring on the world. At home the issue will turn on the possible failure of the Harding administration to help the people, or possible acts that may hurt the country. The democratic party must wait.

The democratic party must not organize to obstruct and embarrass every act of the Harding administration. The democratic party must do everything to help President

Harding's administration and to carry out the policies voted by the people.

The democratic party must be patriotic, not party-idiotic."

By following the course Senator

Lewis has charted the democrats have a splendid opportunity during the next four years to make a record that would stand out in bold contrast to the republican record of obstruction under both of the Wilson administrations, thereby not only putting the republicans to shame before the people, but strengthening the democratic party in the respect and confidence of the American masses.

The people have overwhelmingly voted their preference of a republican administration; and if democracy means anything it means that the will of the majority must prevail.

In the political history of this country there is no more shameful feature than the attitude of the republican leaders toward the present democratic administration.

It is a chapter of party partisanship, nagging, fault-finding criticism, the effect of which was to impede and obstruct the operations of the government, and the only possible motive for which was to weaken and discredit the administration to gain political advantage.

Some of the most eminent republican leaders even abandoned their ideals and arrayed themselves against the very principles of which they had been foremost champions, when the time came for them to choose between these ideals and partisan expediency.

It may be that the republicans have gained a temporary advantage through such tactics.

Let them have it, and make the most of it!

If the democratic leaders will be guided by patriotism first, and make partisan appeal a secondary consideration the party will be that much the stronger, and the country will be given an example that will be much better for the public welfare than that set by the republicans in their attitude toward the Wilson administration.

AGNES SCOTT LECTURES.

The series of lectures soon to be inaugurated at Agnes Scott college are to be given for the benefit of the public, not being limited to the student body and faculty, as heretofore.

The first of these lectures will be that of William E. Dodd, professor of American history at the University of Chicago, and an author of international distinction, whose subject will be "The Mission of Woodrow Wilson."

Professor Dodd will deliver three discourses on this subject, and will be followed during the winter by Lorado Taft, the famous sculptor and art critic, and Miss

Harriet Monroe, editor of Poetry—one of the eminent literary personages of the day.

It is fortunate that the general public is to be given an opportunity to share in the benefit to be derived from this unusual series of lectures by three of the leading scholars and thinkers of America.

The fact that this splendid educational institution has extended the scope of its usefulness and service so as to admit all who will avail themselves of the opportunity will be a source of general gratification.

The letter—with which was enclosed an order blank, together with several pages of attractively worded explanatory advertising matter—opened with the statement that the depreciated moneys of France and Italy are mentioned as offering attractive inducements to investors, but, particular stress is laid upon the German mark.

"Owing to its great depreciation and low price," one of these circular offers says, "The German mark offers the greatest opportunity for high profits," and it continued:

"Marks normally worth 23.8 cents each are selling for about 7 cents on the dollar. Germany is recovering and her money will surely return to its normal exchange value before long. The inauguration of a republican administration next

March 4 and their avowed intention to declare peace with Germany and resume trade with her, will have a big effect on the price of marks.

The market is showing heavy trading. We urge that you place your orders at once, for heavy trading. Send check, we'll do the rest."

In its issue of November 25 The Portland Oregonian published a communication from Carl S.

Kelly, vice president of the Lumberman Trust company, Portland, Oregon, beginning with the statement that—

"Imminent collapse of Germany's currency system, and repudiation at least of that part of the paper currency held abroad, are forecast by articles published in financial journals. There have been numerous indications, say these writers, that paper inflation in Germany was proceeding rapidly to the breaking point. The German mark is being sold at a heavy loss."

"This," The Oregonian's correspondent says, "will be interesting news to the holders of some billions of marks in the United States."

Mr. Kelly declares that "literally billions of marks are held by Americans for speculative purposes," and that "German government authorities and economists take the view that a part of the hoarding of marks by Americans." This causes a scarcity of money, which can be met only by emissions of new money, further impairing exchange value and purchasing power."

The Portland financier argues that the German authorities hold that the hoarding of paper money for speculative purposes is an illegitimate form of investment which should be discouraged by most drastic measures; and that action, when taken, is very likely to result disastrously to the holders of marks.

This banker's opinion is that "the chances are the holders of marks will lose every cent."

Latest from Russia is that "money is to be abolished."

The humor of it is, there doesn't seem to be any of it to abolish.

Giving certain ex-kings another chance is pretty much like hoping that "the worst is yet to come."

It's easy for the pessimist to switch from grouchy to grouch.

He groused till prices came down, and now his cry is, "Just look how they're falling!"

The dollars that went as far as the home bank now look as big as the morning sun.

The millennium may still be some distance away, and yet they say Chicago's going dry!

No one doubts that Senator

Harding is a good Christian, and he'll need the fortitude of one in the storm of office seekers.

And now a scientist says, "people are going to live one thousand years." That'll be a mighty long time to growl at high and low prices.

No matter how cotton goes, the farm is still the all-around, great world-supply proposition.

There, all the winter stories

The old-time friends are with us,

And as the bright flames race

There's a heaven of contentment

At the old-time fireplace.

Come in, you lost and lonely—

You wanderers, in the night;

The home-latch tinkles welcome

To joy and love's delight.

Guests at the ample table,

Chris Betzis Now Greeting Friends At Stamos Cafe

No face in Atlanta is more familiar to the patrons of cafes than Chris Betzis, who was formerly with the Peachtree cafe. Chris is now a partner with Pete Stamos, formerly at the Arcade cafe, and the three are conducting one of the most modern and handsome eating places in the city.

Their new place is known as the Stamos cafe, 121 North Pryor street, three doors south of the Grand theater, and though in operation only a short time, it is drawing scores of patrons, who not only like to be courteously treated by Chris, but who know how well "Pete" Stamos can treat them, and who are also fond of the delectable dishes Charles Mitchell can prepare for them.

Mitchell is the chef, and as a culinary artist no chef in this section has anything on him. The Stamos cafe cook and serve only the most enticing and delightful food—everything that the market affords. One of the most delightful features of the new cafe is the way in which they serve Mocha coffee. With their old-fashioned southern buttermilk biscuits both morning and evening, and with the sweetest and best butter the market affords—these two combinations in themselves are worth going blocks to see.

Chris Betzis will be glad to see any of his former friends, and the cafe is cordially invited to drop in and see how well it can be pleased with good things to eat, and how clean and inviting the cafe is. Just try your next meal there.—(adv.)

WOMEN WILL AID CIVIC WORK HERE

Mrs. McFadden Made Chairman of Committee to Stimulate Activity for Chamber of Commerce. Meeting Soon.

More intensive work by the women belonging to the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce is expected to follow a meeting held Wednesday morning, at which Mrs. Hayes McFadden was appointed chairman of a committee which she will select to arrange for a gathering of all the women members.

In a brief talk to the women's meeting Wednesday, Secretary Charles E. Robertson said that it was not the idea of the officials of the organization to have a separate organization among the women members, but that it was believed an organization they could better coordinate their efforts with those of the men.

Several of the proposed phases of the chamber's activities which have been suggested as possible fields of development by the women are a salesmanship school for girls; assistance in program-arrangement and management for the weekly forum luncheons; work in co-operation with the new community service department of the city, especially with reference to the department in planning.

SHERIFF OF TROUP APPOINTED DEPUTY FEDERAL MARSHAL

Samuel A. Smith, of LaGrange, who, until his resignation, which became effective Monday, was sheriff of Troup county, Tuesday morning assumed the duties of deputy United States marshal for the northern district of Georgia. Mr. Smith had been sheriff of Troup county for four years, lacking one month, and prior to his election as sheriff, had been a deputy sheriff of that county for two years.

Mr. Smith received his appointment as deputy marshal from Marshal Claude B. Bond about two weeks ago. His term of sheriff would not expire until January 1, 1921, but he resigned to accept the government position.

Deputy Smith was born and raised in Troup county. His wife was Miss Bessie Terry, of Atlanta. Mr. Smith has three children, Everett, Sarah and Samuel. He is a Mason, and also a member of the Woodmen of the World.

Mr. Smith's efforts while sheriff of Troup county to put an end to illicit whisky distilling in his county have been the subject of much comment by state and federal prohibition authorities. From July 1 until the date his resignation became effective, he raided 47 stills in the county, captured 25 men in the act of distilling, and poured out 7,000 gallons of whisky.

THREE CHINAMEN JAILED IN RAID; DRUGS ARE FOUND

Following their arrest by federal prohibition agents in an apartment on Peters street, three Chinamen held under bond of $100 each Wednesday by Commissioner W. C. Carter, on a charge of violating the Harrison anti-narcotic act. The officers testified that a quantity of opium and other narcotics were seized in the raid. The Chinamen were Chin Lee, Sam Lee and Lu Chong. The prisoners told the commissioner that they had purchased the narcotics from a "mysterious man." Their story is being investigated by federal narcotic inspectors.

Mrs. McFadden will mail out letters to the 85 women members of the civic organization, requesting their attendance on the meeting which she intended to go to Panama on his vacation trip, Senator Harding declined the offer, saying his arrangements had already been made.

MARIETTA STREET TAILOR CHARGED WITH DISTILLING

Julius Flower, a tailor of 1274 Marietta street, was arrested at noon Wednesday, when Federal Prohibition Agent A. C. Sewell and George Hicks raided his shop and captured a complete distilling outfit in an adjacent bedroom in which Flower is said to have lived.

The still was set up on a four-tiered oil stove and was in operation when found. Fifteen gallons of whisky and a quantity of beer were seized. The officers telephoned Supervising Federal Prohibition Agent D. J. Gantt of their find, and he, in turn, telephoned to the Marietta street address and destroyed before Commissioner W. C. Carter this morning on a charge of violating the national prohibition act.

Yacht Mayflower Offered Harding To Complete Trip

Secretary Daniel Makes Move at Direction of the President—Presidential Vessel Now at Hampton Roads.

Washington, December 1.—By direction of President Wilson, Secretary Daniels placed the presidential yacht, Mayflower, at the disposal of President-elect Harding today to complete his trip from Panama to Washington. The secretary sent a radiogram to Senator Harding on board the steamer Pastores en route to Norfolk, informing him that the Mayflower would be at Hampton Roads Saturday, when the Pastores is due there, and that President Wilson would be happy to have Senator Harding use the vessel for the passage to Washington.

The message said: "The Mayflower will be in Hampton Roads upon your arrival, and the president will be happy to place it at your disposal, as he understands you are coming to Washington from Norfolk."

It was assumed that the Mayflower would be ordered to list anchor in Hampton Roads after conveying Secretary of State Coby to that city Saturday, preparatory to his trip to South America.

The president previously offered Senator Harding the use of the Mayflower and also of a battleship for his journey when he returned to the United States, but Senator Harding declined the offer, saying his arrangements had already been made.

Harding Encounters Gales. On Board Steamship Pastores, December 1.—(By Wire) to the Associated Press.—More rough sailing greeted Senator Harding on his vacation trip today as the Pastores continued the homeward journey, featured by a brief stop yesterday at Antigua.

As soon as the steamer left Port Antonio harbor last night she ran into a storm, which although not of dangerous intensity, made travel unpleasant for most of those on board. Mrs. Harding again today was one of those who remained in.

PLANS BEING DRAWN FOR GREATER MERCER

Huge Plant to Cover 100 Acres and Cost Millions, Is Planned.

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—With the master plans now being drawn for a huge plant, the buildings of which will cover 100 acres, Mercer university is now taking the first step toward becoming one of the south's largest denominational schools.

An architect has been employed by President Weaver acting under instructions of the executive committee which met in Atlanta a few days ago. The plans will include administrative buildings, athletic fields, a dining hall large enough to seat 1,000 students and other structures.

While the entire plant will not be completed until about five years from now, $100,000 will be expended on new buildings within the next year. The Baptist convention meets in Atlanta December 7 to 9, at which time a campaign for $5,000, will be asked for Mercer and other Baptist schools in Georgia.

SAVANNAH IS USING PORTABLE SCHOOLS

Savannah, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—Savannah is this week using for the first time four of the number of portable school houses recently bought by the board of education as an elastic and adaptable plan of meeting the congestion of the school buildings, which was not uniform, one big building being some times the worst crowded and the next term another building in another part of the city being the congested one.

These houses, ready made when they arrived, are not unpleasant in appearance, can be set up and then set down almost anywhere, can be used for a crowded grammar school here or the crowded junior high in another street. The four now in use cost $7,500—approximately $1,250 for a room accommodating more than fifty students.

CHOMSKY DID NOT CONFESS LARCENY, SAYS ATTORNEY

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—George Chomsky of Atlanta, in pleading guilty to nine charges of larceny of automobiles in Bibb superior court yesterday, did not thereby admit that he had stolen the cars in question, it was explained today by his attorney, Henry D. Russell.

The attorney told the court that his client admitted only handling stolen cars. He declared, made Chomsky guilty of technical larceny and not actual larceny. Chomsky received fines aggregating $5,000, which he paid.

Country Is Scoured By Sheriff's Posse Searching for Negro

Thomasville, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—Considerable excitement was aroused in Thomasville last night when an unknown negro was brought to Thomasville and lodged in the city jail. It is not known whether he is the negro charged with assault on a young white girl in Bulloch county, or not, as the officials refuse to discuss the case. He was removed late this afternoon by officers to some other town. He is said to have answered to the description of the negro wanted and it is thought that he was brought here and taken to jail in another county for safekeeping.

All sorts of rumors have been current here today in regard to the lynching of a negro near Pavo last night, but investigation has failed to show any knowledge of it by the citizens of that town. Those interviewed over the phone and several others here today all disclaim any knowledge of a lynching either there or near Barwick.

A number of negroes have been arrested and taken before the young girl, who was the victim of the attack, but none of them were guilty, according to her statement. One negro from Pavo today was taken to jail, and it was said that a negro had confessed to the crime and was being pursued by a mob, but the officers were trying to elude them and land him in some jail. This may have emanated from the arrest of the negro brought here last night. Great feeling has been aroused by the crime and large posess have been scouring the county for the guilty negro.

Albany, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—A negro charged with assault early tonight for safekeeping, had not arrived at the jail here at 10 o'clock tonight, according to the sheriff here. Nothing had been learned of the negro beyond that the sheriff had left Thomasville with him saying he intended to come here, but it was regarded as possible that the sheriff might have taken another direction in order to avoid any mob violence.

One Dead, One Hurt In Two Savannah Accidents Monday

C. Smith, of Bulloch county. His home was formerly in Bulloch, and the body is being today sent to Cobbtown for burial.

Ethel Kelley's Slayer Goes on Trial Today In Macon Courts

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special).—Emmett L. Smith, slayer of Mrs. M. H. Marsh, better known as Ethel Kelley, "queen of Macon underworld," will go to trial in the Bibb superior court tomorrow on a charge of murder. Smith's case was to have been taken up Tuesday, but was postponed.

While Smith will plead not guilty, his counsel, Judge John P. Ross, says his defense will be based on insanity. A large number of aliens have been summoned by both sides and the trial will cover the balance of the week.

The Very Latest in Shoes
Attracts Atlanta Women

The happiness of comfortable feet was one of the good things the war taught women.

Since then, they have made the shoe dealers so uncomfortable by insistence on comfort with good looks, that per force, one shoe dealer has taken the shortest cut to please them, and has perfected an invention that embodies just hitherto impossible combination. One manufacturer has seen the light, and is building shoes on the new principle, and now it is up to the women.

For the new idea defies tradition, and some women, even those who want to be comfortable, will have to be shown, and will wait to see what the other women do.

Mr. Pietzuch, the designer and inventor, who comes from Ohio, is in Atlanta now, and is demonstrating the wonder shoe at Rich's. It is called the Osteotarsal, and is being put forward by the makers of Queen Quality.

Three Point Bearing.
"The principle of the new shoe," said Mr. Pietzuch, when he was asked about it yesterday, "is its three point bearing, instead of the two point."

"As far back as we know anything about shoes, the two point bearing has been the thing, and we have accepted it with all its impracticability, because we were accustomed to it."

"The three point bearing throws the weight evenly on the heel and the two sides of the ball of the foot, contrary to the two point weight, which is on the heel and the sides of the ball of the foot, which attempts to keep the foot in a straight line and to balance the weight on the heel and the middle of the ball. On account of the construction of the arch, this is impossible, and the old form resulted in broken arches and many other evils to which the foot has so long been heir."

"The new device, by which the three point bearing is secured, rests in the unequal resiliency of the heel, which is made of half-soft and half-hard rubber, and in the flexibility of the arch of the sole."

"You know how tired you get when the arch of your shoe does not meet the arch of your foot; in their wisdom, when the shoe bridges the arch instead of following it."

"Well, the three point bearing, instead of attempting to hold the arch rigid, allows it a natural flexibility, and whatever weakness is in the arch is corrected by extra resiliency in the heel, which throws the foot in walking in the direction in which it should go."

A National Movement.
"Women in business, in organization, in home life, are more active on their feet than ever before," continued Mr. Pietzuch, "and they are growing in realization of what it means in their efficiency that they should be able to 'forget their feet.' We think of them only with satisfaction."

"They are throwing away more shoes than ever before because they are not comfortable. The shoes are probably as good as they ever were, but the women are more exacting because it has never before been so necessary that they should be comfortable."

"The new principle in shoes has come with the new demand, and the revolution has started."

"The Young Woman's Christian association, through its national board, which is always solicitous for the welfare, especially of the young business woman, is enthusiastically sold to the Osteotarsal, and is conducting a series of demonstrations in all the cities of the value of the new foot line, which is really the restoration of the foot line to the line of nature. Those of the great army of young women members of the 'Y' who have been privileged to see these demonstrations, have become enthusiastic disciples of the Osteotarsal."

Antiquated As Hoop Skirts.
"I believe it is a question of only a short time when the old two-line bearing, which has been in vogue for centuries nobody has thought of questioning, will be considered as antiquated as hoop skirts or corsets of 'mail.'"

"The women are taking a good many things in their own hands, and I do not believe they will stand much longer the martyrdom of their feet, now that there is a sensible and a pleasing way out of it."

"The Osteotarsal being shown in several sizes and colors, high and low. The highest heel is an inch and five-eighths, which is the average height of a high Cuban heel."

"Asked if the new principle would be adapted to the shoe with French heel, Mr. Pietzuch answered in the negative."

"The shoe with the French heel is so far out of the normal shape of the foot, that a natural bearing is impossible. The French heel will of course always continue to be worn, I suppose, for dress purposes, but as you see, the Osteotarsal, with its more rational heel, is a much more sensible shoe."

"I believe that it will cut down the number of occasions for which French heels have been considered appropriate."

Hospital Committee Meeting Called.
A very important meeting of the hospital committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the clubhouse.

Mrs. J. B. Rowe, chairman, urges that every member be present and that any club member wishing to join this committee is cordially invited. No other notice will be given of this meeting.

His Friend and His Wife

By COSMO HAMILTON.

(Continued From Yesterday.) Frankie Mundie was prepared to lend her sympathetic eye to Margaret that night. She had seen enough in the girl's expression during dinner to know that she stood greatly in need of help. Also she had watched with growing uneasiness the smoke that was rising from the various houses on her beloved Quaker Hill which had been affected by the incendiary of Mrs. Hicks. Added to which were the whispers brought to her by several housewives. And she had seen Julian driving away from the studio barn that sunny morning. Something in the nature of hysteria that she had detected about Lilla Bertie, too, had made her ready for an S. O. S. But Margaret, almost alone among her friends, had not yet come to her confession. She was waiting, and her pride was stubborn. Had something new happened to make her break? It was not until she put her arm round Margaret, led her into a window recess and waited a sweet and gracious woman, tempered into fine steel by her own tragedy, bravely endured.

She kind, wise eyes Margaret broke down her fourth wall. "Frankie," she whispered, "I was with Julian in Baltimore. Mary Miller rescued me and I got off. But the lie wasn't buried deep enough. Bits of it have been dug up by Mrs. Hicks, and she is taking it from house to house. Gilbert Carlton and Elsa know. Mr. Mahan knows. Daisy knows. The Petersons know—and there's Bobbie. God, if he should know—When I sent Julian away he said that Lilla, who knows too and helped me, might have claims of conscience. She has, Frankie. They've been coming to her at night and tormenting her. She went for me to say that she couldn't look at herself in the glass with the thing on her head, and I've brought her back to plead with her not to put herself at the expense of Bob's happiness. But I can't and the need's near. I can never let Bob look at me again when his faith has gone."

Frankie held the trembling girl warmly in her arms and soothed her as though she were a child still, the terror of a nightmare. The confession had come at last. Everything that had been suspected was true, with a vengeance! Frankie knew women of Lilla Bertie's type—high-strung, egotistical, superstitious, without self-control and with an unhealthy and irresistible itch for standing in the limelight. She despised them. Once having been persuaded into condemnation, let them stick to their guns—especially when, as in this case, there was such a man as Bob to be left unshaken.

"The new is nowhere in sight," she said. "There are too many decent people about to prevent that." "But what can be done?" Lilla says that she must speak to Bob tonight.

"The evening's young yet," said Frankie. "Let me get my thinking cap on, Margaret, my dear. Luckily we know something of the temperament of the woman who is the disturbing factor. If we try hard enough we may guess the rest and work accordingly. Sit down and answer one or two questions."

From where they sat close together in that quiet corner the voices of the merry group on the veranda came to them faintly. The scent of the flowers drifted in, and the gentle breeze that had sprung up filled the air with the sound of rustling leaves that was like the applause of fairies. It was a night to make an atheist half believe in God.

"How much older is your sister than you are?" "Three years, I think—yes, three years."

"Married at eighteen, didn't she, to a jealous and exacting man?" "Yes, but Howard's awfully kind really, although he hasn't given her any rope."

"Given her any rope—that's what I wanted to get at. All the precious notions that you girls picked up at school and the wish to enter blue rooms and all that that means have been kept under. She's from where they sat close together in that quiet corner the voices of the merry group on the veranda came to them faintly. ## BLACK-DRAGHT AS A PREVENTIVE

When You Begin Feeling Bad With Feverishness, Headaches, Cold or Constipation, Give Your Liver a Tonic—Take Black-Draught.

Candler, N. C.—"I don't believe there is a better medicine made than Black-Draught. I have used it and my mother's folks used it for colds, feverishness, headache and deranged liver." This statement recently was made by Mr. C. B. Trull, a well-known farmer on Route 3, this place.

"I have, before now, begun feeling dull, a headache would come on, and I would feel all full of cold, and take a few doses of Black-Draught and get all right," adds Mr. Trull.

"Last year my brother had measles, flu and pneumonia. They wired us: I went to Camp Jackson to look him up. Down there different ones were using preventatives. I stayed with him. The only thing I used was Black-Draught. It kept my system cleansed and I kept well and strong."

By keeping your liver and stomach in good order, you stand in little danger of catching serious ills that occasionally spread through town and country.

Get a package of Black-Draught and have it ready for the first symptom of a disordered liver. Most druggists sell Black-Draught. (adv.)

One of the Greatest Wastes in Your Kitchen Eliminated

A Message About Cooking That Will Interest the Modern Housewife

EVERY housewife realizes that one of the greatest wastes in the kitchen is caused by the lard and fat which has been used to fry fish, onions, or other foods which give up their taste and odor to ordinary fats or cooking compounds.

How Much Money Do You Waste Each Month on Old Fashioned Cooking Methods?

As, for instance, when it was demonstrated that 2 lbs. of Mazola fried 2½ lbs. of potatoes, whereas only 7 lbs. 14 oz. of potatoes were fried in 2 lbs. of lard.

It's a great satisfaction, too, for the refined woman to use Mazola. For it does not smoke up the kitchen, nor does it work a hardship on the neighbors.

Refrigeration and Meat

In less than an hour after an animal is dispatched in a Swift & Company packing plant, it is hanging up as meat in a room brought by refrigerating machinery to a temperature just above freezing.

From that time until it is in your own ice box—within two to three weeks—it is kept at the same temperature; first in the coolers at our packing plants; next on our refrigerator cars, more than 6,000 of which are constantly moving to market with their perishable cargoes; then in our refrigerator rooms at our branch selling houses; then in your dealer's ice box, and last in your own.

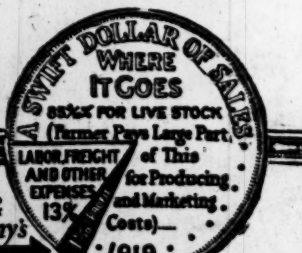

Only for the few minutes while it is being put into the refrigerator cars at our packing plants, or taken out of them at our branch houses, or whisked to your retailer in our trucks, is it exposed to any change of temperature.

Without a skilled use of this system of cooling, made possible by modern science, you could not get fresh meat, prepared under most sanitary conditions, except at greater expense—unless you happened to live so near live stock raising centers that your needs could be supplied from live stock raised near-by.

If the foregoing raises any question in the mind of the reader, we will endeavor to answer it, upon request.

McCord Predicts Better Business Conditions in '21

The regular quarterly and business meeting of the Atlanta Builders' exchange took place Wednesday evening in the breakfast room of the Kimball house.

The feature of the evening was an address by Joseph A. McCord, of the federal reserve bank. After reviewing the creation and mission of the federal reserve bank system, Mr. McCord discussed various economic questions of the day and time in their relation to the welfare of the south and to the interests of the building associations.

Discussing the drop in the price of cotton and other commodities, at a time like this, everyone may expect to take a loss, but it will be only a few months until a more normal condition is brought about. The farmer will have money and will begin to buy on a greater scale from the business man. Trade in real estate and building will be much greater in the spring. Don't lose heart; take your part in the struggle and all will be well.

The Atlanta Builders' exchange is an organization to build up Atlanta and to make Atlanta what she ought to be.

At a business meeting which took place during the first part of the luncheon, a motion for increasing the yearly dues of the organization was defeated. Plans were discussed for attending the convention to be held in Savannah in February.

R. J. Westcott, of the exchange, acted as chairman.

POWERS PREDICTS SENTENCE IN CASE

a piece of legal cap paper with a rubber stamp. When he tired of this means of exercising his excess energy he seized a pen and drew circles. Once he arose from his seat, approached a throng of spectators and asked in devil-may-care tones, "Well, what's the consensus of opinion, gentlemen?"

Closing hours of the trial were replete with sensation. The state introduced N. L. Davis, who said he was from Terre Haute, Ind., and declared that he had been fleeced of more than $5,000 in the wire-tapping scheme. He identified Powers as one of the attaches of the place, but declared that he had been directly robbed by a man named Grant, one of the members of Powers' crew now said to be missing.

In rebuttal, Powers declared that an Indian had approached him in the tower and had promised to keep silent if Powers would give him $5,000. Powers denied ever having seen the man before. He branded Davis as a blackmailer.

Denies Making Profit

Powers also vigorously disclaimed that he profited by the deal. He declared that Tom Moore, also mysteriously missing, had made away with the $10,000 brought by the Carolinians to the place as a bribe. Powers said that he was a victim of Moore, Grant and the rest.

According to his statement, he came to Atlanta from New York. He was on his way to Houston, Texas, and was accosted at the Terminal station by Grant. It was Grant, he said, who told him of the wire-tapping scheme. He had played at the West Peachtree street place and won. It is not clear whether he was convinced that the wire-tappers were really on the square with their partners that he interested Wade.

He finally suggested to Wade and Holley that they could make much money by using checks. "They'll pay on checks just like they will on cash," he told them. They played the checks and won, but were called by Grant and Moore, who were told that they would have to show funds to prove that the checks were good. It was then that the $11,000 was produced, and it was then that Holley rushed home the $14,000 brought in Atlanta in certified checks from the bank.

Holley and Lamar calmly, looking the jurors squarely in the eye and fronting them with an array of fraternal order buttons, won on the label of his coat.

The only other witnesses of the morning were Oliver N. Confer, a clerk at a local hotel where Powers and his wife stopped, and the two youngest victims. The hotel clerk testified that Mrs. Powers always paid the hotel bills and that a negro maid, summoned as a witness, and supposed to be a confidant of the Powers pair, had suddenly departed for Washington Tuesday.

Lamar Not Authorized

Both Holley and Lamar simply stated that they had never authorized Powers to act as a betting agent. Both disclaimed that in their turn transactions they had authorized Powers to do anything. In the closing arguments, both the solicitor general and the counsel for the defense vigorously denounced Powers and his associates. The solicitor general declared that Powers should be given the maximum sentence, it would be an open invitation for every bunco charger in the United States to make Atlanta his headquarters.

He pictured Holley and Lamar as simple ruralists, who were marked for smooth-tongued gentry of the county. Powers, he declared, was the fact that the law didn't permit a heavier sentence than five years. On the other hand, John McClelland declared that Holley and Lamar had gone into a crooked game with their own money, and now were selling "any man who plays with crooked dice or cards." Powers, he declared, gets exactly what is coming to him when he is trimmed. "I don't think Powers' fellows went out to trim Powers, and Powers trimmed them. That's the long and short of the whole business."

Law in the Case

In his closing speech, Sam Hewlett devoted a large part of his argument to the question of the law. He declared that under the Georgia statutes there could be no trust in illegal transactions. He further argued that the indictment charged that Powers had received money, when, as a matter of fact, the cash had been furnished by Holley. "I don't say that Powers is not guilty of a crime," said Mr. Hewlett dramatically, "but I do say that he is not guilty of the crime charged. Both of these men have admitted on the stand that they never authorized Powers to receive money. Then, where could the trust come in?"

The latter part of his speech was devoted to a scathing denunciation of Holley. Why this simple country lawyer should have so much money that the banks in Atlanta can't cash his checks, and still he is charged with being a crook, was something that his life has been built up by, losing $11,000.

He scoffed at the theory that a dummy instrument was used to fool a man who could raise $34,000. While doing so, he attempted to demonstrate the workings of the instrument. Becoming involved in his argument, he said that he was an amateur telegrapher. The rest of Mr. Hewlett's speech was accompanied by a series of interruptions from the judge. Judge Humphries' charge was that the jury should find Powers guilty of a crime.

It was a significant fact that the jury was supposed to be of paramount interest to Atlanta's sporting fraternity, not a single member of the jury was a member of the court house.

LOSS OF $500,000 IN JASPER FIRE; 3 BLOCKS BURNED

Jasper, Ala., December 1.—Fire originating at 4:20 this morning in the building of the Crawford Mercantile company, had destroyed twenty business houses and caused a loss of $500,000.

The principal business block of the town and portions of three other blocks were burned out in the blaze which gained rapid headway, fanned by a stiff wind. Included in the burned area was the property of the Bell Telephone company and the Western Union Telegraph company. The First National Bank building, which is already being made for rebuilding the stricken area. Dynamite was freely used, many houses being demolished, but these efforts apparently acted as added fuel, the fire leaping from building to building and only halting when the other rim of the business section of the town had been reached.

Two bodies awaiting burial in an undertaking establishment were consumed with the building. During the eight hours of intensive fire fighting in which hundreds participated, there was but one accident, Robert Christian being slightly injured by a dynamite explosion. Funds have been obtained from the state military forces here and those who lost their homes will be adequately provided for.

FAVORS FREEDOM FOR PHILIPPINES

Governor General Harrison Says Filipinos Have Demonstrated Ability to Govern Themselves.

Washington, December 1.—Political activity and post war economic disturbances have caused a renewal of sentiment in the Philippine Islands for independence, according to Governor General Harrison's annual report made public tonight. The governor's recommendation that independence be granted is renewed with the declaration that "the stable government stated as pre-requisite has already been established in the Philippines."

"The public statements of allied and associated leaders during the war about the rights and liberties of small nationalities and the enunciation of the doctrine of self-determination have been widely disseminated in the Philippines," the report said, "and confidence in the prompt formation of the league of nations seemed to offer future security for Philippine independence."

Two general elections in the islands in July, 1919, demonstrated the ability of the Filipinos to effect a political government, the report said, although irregularities and defects in the election laws were apparent. It recommends equal suffrage for the islands.

Total foreign trade of the Philippines for the year was slightly less than for 1918, the report said, the balance of trade shifting quite heavily against the islands before the end of the year. Although sugar exports were less than 50 per cent of the previous year the crop brought nearly twice as much as in 1918. Expenditures for the year exceeded revenue by about $3,500,000, leaving a treasury surplus from former years of about $14,000,000. Preliminary census figures for the islands showed a population of about 10,000,000 persons, of whom only 555,000 were nonchristians.

Among the recommendations of the governor general are: Revision of the land and immigration laws, development of port and harbor facilities and a campaign to interest American business men and capitalists in the commercial possibilities of the islands.

Japanese Situation Discussed by Harris At Macon Meeting

Macon, Ga., December 1.—(Special)—United States Senator W. J. Harris was a guest at the weekly meeting of the Macon Rotary club today and discussed the Japanese situation and other vital problems as he observed them on his recent tour of the Orient with the congressional delegation.

Senator Harris said President Harding will not be prejudicial to the south and that the fact that the republicans carried two southern states this year is indication of the fact that they are building a party from a better class of people than heretofore. "The breaking of the solid south will be a good thing for this section of the country," was the opinion expressed by the senator.

The Japanese question was termed serious by Senator Harris who said the emperor is an autocrat and can declare war by his own act, though the business interests of the country are opposed to any conflict with the United States. "If the American congress declares war I am going to support it," said Senator Harris. "The republicans play cheap politics because they knew it would discredit the democratic party and win the next election."

This is the Best and Cheapest Food

THERE is no more delicious food than rice. Cook it so that each grain swells to tender plumpness—so that every flake stands alone. Then eat it as you do potatoes with gravy poured over it, or golden butter melting through it.

Serve rice as a vegetable with all kinds of meat, fish and poultry. Bake it with chopped meats—it's a meal by itself. With sugar and cream, it can't be equaled as a breakfast cereal.

Eat rice every day—you'll enjoy it. And you will save money.

You Will Like this Master Recipe

From the southland, where rice is a famous dish, comes this splendid recipe. It is so easy to cook rice this way, that anyone can successfully do so the first time they try carefully following the directions.

Wash rice thoroughly in a strainer. Use a deep porcelain or agate-ware kettle. To four cups of boiling water add one level teaspoonful of salt. Then add one cup of washed rice so slowly that water continues to boil. Lift rice occasionally with a fork, and shake kettle so that no kernels stick to bottom. But—this is important—never stir the rice. Boil twenty minutes. Then pour water off, if any, and place in open oven where it will finish swelling without burning. Each grain will stand alone, plump, tender and delicious. Consult any standard cook book for a number of delicious rice recipes.

show. During the same time 214,705 emigrants left the United States, leaving a net increase in aliens in this country of 153,154 for that period.

Most of the immigrants came from Europe and most of the emigrants returned there. Despite the rapid increase in the flow of immigrants, department of labor officials do not believe the excess of immigration from Europe over emigration will reach the pre-war figures for sometime to come.

Total immigration last year exceeded emigration by 144,885.

of the board, announced. "We want every bit of bone file evidence possible."

The statement given out by Mr. Maddox followed.

"The committee will meet again Tuesday, December 7, 1920, at 7:30 p. m., at police headquarters."

"At the meeting every citizen of Atlanta who knows any fact showing neglect of duty on the part of any member of the police department is invited to attend and testify as a witness."

"The committee wants facts, not mere idle rumors, especially such as may be based upon irresponsible talk of bootleggers and gamblers, who are interested in bringing the officers into disrepute. It wants all facts and the names of witnesses who can give facts."

"The meeting will be public, and we expect that the solicitor general will assist us with such facts as are in his possession on the subject under investigation."

CLEAN-UP ORDERED IN COAL STRIKE ZONE

No Disorders Are Reported to Military Headquarters.

Williamson, West Va., December 1.—Interest in the Mingo county coal strike situation today centered in the interposed appointment of a major protest to the city commission tonight for the city of Williamson, the county seat and at present military headquarters. Mayor W. O. Peck is in command of the city, and following the instructions of Colonel Herman Hall, in command of the provisional battalion of United States troops in the strike zone, to "clean up" the city, the appointment of an active head was made necessary.

No disorders of any nature have been reported from the headquarters during the last 24 hours, Colonel Hall said tonight.

The report of the death of William Francis, who died at the hospital in Welch, W. Va., remained undisputed at headquarters. Francis was shot at Harpersburg, Ky., yesterday in attempting to make an arrest. Everett Dotson, a deputy sheriff in Francis' company, received a bullet in the eye, according to W. A. Wilson, superintendent of the Mingo county, near Harpersburg, who said he was visited by authorities in connection with the shooting, was still at large.

Lumber for the Mingo county is being shipped to the colonies of striking miners at Nolan and at Spring arrived today, according to officials of the United Mine Workers. The strike was installed immediately, making more bearable conditions in the tent colonies, especially in the tent colony at Spring, where the most continuous rain that has fallen for the past two days.

Many understandings both men and women, were making their exodus from Williamson today upon Colonel Hall's instructions, that the city must be "cleaned up" and "function at once." Representatives of the city, in the city commission, disclosed the determination to make a marked improvement in the moral and sanitary conditions.

AFTER KILLING WIFE, DAVIS HANGS HIMSELF

Raleigh, N. C., December 1.—Charles E. Davis, prominent Wake county farmer, who early Monday morning shot and killed his wife so badly that she died yesterday, hanged himself from a tree in the Wake county jail here some time during the night. Davis used the two sleeves of his undershirt in hanging. He was wearing the shirt to the bars of his cell and the other around his neck, strangling to death.

mission to the league of nations, and the next problem to be solved by the league membership, is that involving states in which nationalities are not clearly defined, and also the obligation of the league in aiding Austria to regain her economic life.

The situation in Austria is admittedly serious and will probably come in for discussion when the committee's recommendation for league membership is brought up in the assembly floor.

WILSON REMOVES GREATEST CLOUD

The general proposition of admitting new states has resulted in wide divergence of opinion in the committee. It is believed that the committee will lead to extensive debate on the assembly floor. Nansen, of Norway, declared there were three outstanding points upon which decision must be made. First, whether admission to the league should be made on the basis of recognition by all members of the league; second, whether admission creates an obligation for the league members to recognize the territorial integrity of the new members; and third, whether a unanimous vote is required for admission, and if not, whether the opposing minority is bound to recognize the new member.

Admission of Austria is expected to be followed shortly by admission of Bulgaria.

The offer of Spain and Brazil to join in the mediation came during this morning's session of the committee. That body left to President Wilson to decide if he desired this co-operation. The note will be sent to Washington in the early evening.

Lord Robert Cecil announced today that he was still anxious that the $20,000,000 which he had estimated would be needed to help the Armenians, be secured.

The council of the league of nations today unanimously approved the invitation drawn up by military commission calling on the United States to name a representative to sit on the commission. The invitation, the text of which was made public and cable in news dispatches last night, expressed the view that the general consideration of the subject of a reduction of armament could see its way to send a representative to sit in a consultative capacity with the commission.

Following the council's approval of the invitation at its session today a note embodying it was dispatched to the Washington government.

BAKER REFUSES TO DISCUSS MATTER.

Washington, December 1.—Secretary Baker today refused to discuss Geneva dispatches stating that Major General Wood had been mentioned as possibly being named by the league of nations Armenian committee to lead the proposed campaign of the Armenians against Mustafa Kemal Pasha, the Turkish nationalist leader.

"It would be plainly improper for me to make any comment until I have received official confirmation of the press dispatches," the secretary said.

FRENCH SKEPTICAL OF AMERICA'S ABILITY.

Paris, December 1.—(United Press.)—The French are skeptical of America's ability to straighten out the Armenian tangle. The acceptance by President Wilson of the task of mediation between the Armenians and the Turkish nationalists was received here with indifference, owing to the widespread belief in official circles that no effective agreement will result from the forthcoming negotiations.

French leaders point out that America's force is one of purely moral suasion, without the material backing of arms and men deemed necessary in dealing with the nations in the Near East. They accordingly see little avail in the attempt to reason with Mustafa Kemal.

The fear is also expressed that the advent of Harding to the presidency may mean the overturning of Wilson's negotiations, and the possible veto of the president has been accomplished. Accordingly, they predict a series of altitudinal twists which will do more to scratch the surface of the question.

Dr. Krass Tells Of Soul Suffering In Ravaged Europe

Speaking to an audience of several hundred Jewish citizens of Atlanta in the temple on Pryor street, Dr. Krass, rabbi of the great Congregation New York city, created a profound impression Wednesday night as he spoke of the ravages in Europe, and for an hour and a half he held his audience in rapt attention.

Dr. Krass, rabbi of the great Congregation New York city, created a profound impression Wednesday night as he spoke of the ravages in Europe, and for an hour and a half he held his audience in rapt attention. He related experiences on a five months tour of Europe, and explained the purpose of the great movement, which is being fostered by the Union of American Hebrew congregations.

Dr. Krass, accompanied by Mr. Strauss, arrived in Atlanta Wednesday morning, and after a brief stay at the hotel, he proceeded to the synagogue, where he held a service. He was accompanied by Mr. Strauss, who is a member of the Atlanta Hebrew congregation.

SOUL SUFFERING.

Dr. Krass said that instead of telling of the physical suffering of the Jewish people in Europe, he would tell of the spiritual agony suffered by them. He said that the spiritual agony was the most terrible of all, and that it was the spiritual agony that was the most difficult to bear.

"I wish I had the power to transport every Jew and Jewess in America to Europe," he said, "to see the terrible spiritual agony that is being suffered by them. I wish I could tell them of the spiritual agony that is being suffered by them. I wish I could tell them of the spiritual agony that is being suffered by them."

ment suffered a defeat in the house of lords tonight when an amendment to the Irish home rule bill providing for the establishment of a senate for Southern Ireland, was carried against the government by a vote of 120 to 38. It was explained that the object of the amendment was to safeguard the minority southern unionists.

Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor for the government, opposed the amendment on the ground that such a senate must be preponderantly nominative, and there was no hope of forcing such a second chamber on Southern Ireland. He emphasized the government's desire that the question of framing a senate should be left to the central council.

TWO RESIDENCES DAMAGED BY FIRE

Fire causing considerable damage broke out in the home of E. W. Landers, 180 Chappell street Wednesday afternoon. It was said to have been caused by a defective gas stove. The house was a frame one with a shingle roof. Slight damage was done to the home of H. E. Baggers, next door, from flying sparks.

A blaze, believed to have been caused by defective wiring, caused considerable damage to the home of Amos W. Braselton, 1650 Ponce de Leon avenue early Wednesday morning. Though the fire had gained considerable headway before it was discovered by members of the family, all escaped without injury.

No estimate of the fire damage was given by the fire department, but the loss was covered by insurance. It was feared for a while that the club house of the Druid Hills Golf club, located close by, would catch a fire from the flames.
